Haskell to Read at Friends of the Library

Friends of the Library of Sewanee: The University of the South will have a reading by Professor David Haskell at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 21, in the Torian Room of duPont Library.

David Haskell is a writer and a biologist. His latest book, "Sounds Wild and Broken," explores the story of sound on Earth and is an Editor's Choice at the New York Times. His previous books, "The Forest Unseen" and "The Songs of Trees" are acclaimed for their integration of science, poetry, and rich attention to the living world. Among their honors include the National Academies' Best Book Award, John Burroughs Medal, finalist for Pulitzer Prize, Iris Book Award, Reed Environmental Writing Award, National Outdoor Book Award for Natural History Literature, and runner-up for the PEN E. O. Wilson Literary Science Writing Award. Haskell received his Bachelor of Arts from the University of Oxford and doctorate from Cornell University. He is a Fellow of the Linnean Society of London, a Guggenheim Fellow, and William R. Kenan Jr. Professor at the University of the South in Sewanee, where he has taught since 1996.

There will be a reception and book sale following the talk. More information about the Friends of the Library can be found at their website https://library.sewanee.edu/FOL. For questions about the talk or joining the Friends of the Library, please contact Penny Cowan at (931) 598-1573 or <pcowan@sewanee.edu>.

Foundation work is already underway at the site of a new trail staircase leading to Greeter Falls. Materials to build the staircase will be moved to the site by "volunteer power" on Saturday, Sept. 17. The staircase is a project of the Friends of South Cumberland's Trail Team.

Volunteers Needed Sept. 17 to Help Staircase Project at Greeter Falls

prove many parts of the access trail to our work-site the materials we'll use to construct an all-new staircase who's able can join us from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on that day."

Collins explained that the FSC Trails Team, working with SCSP Rangers, has spent the past nine months building or renovating trail sections along much of the route down to Greeter Falls. He noted that the new staircase will greatly improve response times for EMTs park visitor is injured while visiting Greeter Falls. The staircase project will connect two of those segments and mark the completion of what is the first phase of an even larger project to improve trails in South Cumberland State Park.

Volunteers are asked to preregister for the event from a link on the home page of the FSC website

The Friends of South Cumber- at <FriendsOfSouthCumberland. land State Park (FSC) are looking org>. There, they can see plans for for volunteers to help them move the staircase and learn more about lumber and other construction ma- volunteering for the event. All terials down to the site of a new trail volunteers are encouraged to bring staircase project at Greeter Falls in plenty of water and a high-energy snack, wear sturdy shoes and bring work gloves, if available.

We'll be moving a number tant part of our larger effort to im- of long boards and posts, with a person on each end. You should to Greeter Falls," explained FSC be able to lift 25 to 30 pounds in Trails Chair John Collins. "The order to do that, but if you'd just avage Gulf West trailhead, which like to come to hand out water and leads to Greeter Falls, is one of the help direct traffic, that's fine, too," three busiest trailheads in South Collins said. "Please be on time, Cumberland, and as a result, the 9 a.m. sharp, at the Savage Gulf original trail is worn, eroded and West/Greeter Falls trailhead off very difficult to navigate in some Highway 56 between Altamont nomic Development and Complaces. On Saturday, Sept. 17, we and Beersheba Springs. We'll have hope to change that by delivering a brief orientation session, and then we'll get started."

FSC's Trails Team hopes to have later on this fall. We need lots of the new staircase completed and help to do that, and hope everyone open by the end of 2022. A second staircase, just above the Greeter Falls Plunge Pool, is planned as a 2023 project, subject to funds being raised in the interim. Donations can be made via the "Make" transferred to permanent residents, a Gift" page on the FSC website.

University to Celebrate Family Weekend Sept. 16-18

The University of the South will host a Fall Convocation on Friday, Sept. 16, coinciding with Family Weekend.

Nationally recognized higher education advisor Claude Pressnell Jr. will be the convocation speaker and will receive an honorary degree. The Convocation, which will be at 4:30 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel, will include the induction of approximately 300 new members into the Order of the Gown. One of the highlights this year is the opportunity for family and friends to join and be a part of the induction outside on the University quadrangle at the moment new members receive the charge from Acting Vice-Chancellor Nancy Berner and wear their gowns for

Community Council: Housing, Senior Living, Grants, Election

by Leslie Lytle Messenger Staff Writer

At the Sept. 12 meeting, the Sewanee Community Council heard updates on initiatives to address Sewanee's housing shortage and senior living needs. The council approved a $5,000 grant for repair and rehabilitation of the St. Mark's Community Center. Six seats on the council come open for election this fall, and election officer John Solomon provided information on how to become a candidate.

Reporting on housing needs, University Vice President for Ecomunity Relations David Shipps said Sewanee Village Ventures was "advancing on construction of five to seven single family homes on vacant leasehold not taken by employees in the lottery." Superintendent of Leases Sallie Green confirmed all employees who wanted a leasehold received one, with 10 lots spoken for. The lots can only be

IONA UPDATE

IONA: Art Sanctuary has been closed for public fine arts presentations due to the dangerous Covid variations since January 2020 and will continue must likely through 2023 unless precautions prevail.

We were privileged that many local poets, other creative writers, lecturers, thespians, and musicians shared their art with the public through IONA since the fall of 2005 and as director I thank all presenters and the public for their support.

The September 2022 issue of "Alternate Perceptions Magazine" edited by Brent Raynes includes my essay, "Words and Flesh, Conjoining the Mystical Moment and Magical Impulse"- Segment 6, of the manuscript "IT." <hppt// www@apmagazine'com>.

A poem, "Breviary. Afoot With Moses" was recently published in
"Wonderlust" via Poetry Editor, Helen Mitsios.

IONA may be opened for private showings by contacting Ed Carlos <ecarlos@sewanee.edu>.

WONDERFUL WEDDING THANK-YOU

To the Editor:

The expression "It takes a village" is very true in Sewanee and our family would like to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt thanks to everyone who helped us with our daughter's wedding last weekend.

Thank you to the Rev. Rob Lamborn, rector of St. Mark and St. Paul, who officiated our daughter and son-in-law's wedding in the beautiful Chapel of the Apostles last Saturday – a perfect setting to begin their lives together.

Our family was thrilled to have One of the biology labs got Helpers" who worked tirelessly to make our daughter's wedding and weekend one to be cherished and creating and transforming various venues into magical places filled with gorgeous floral designs and inviting lighting arrangements. We even caught a glimpse of Lee Hancock and Kiki Beavers assisting Ken and Lynn with the set-ups.

Letters to the Editor Policy

Letters to the editor are welcome at the Sewanee Mountain Messenger and are a vital part of our community's conversation. Letters need to be no longer than 250 words and may be edited for space and clarity. We make exceptions from time to time, but these are our general guidelines. We strive to print all letters we receive, but publication is not guaranteed. Letters should be factually accurate. Letters that are deemed unsuitable for publication shall not be printed elsewhere in the newspaper, including as a paid advertisement.

Letters and/or their author must have some relationship to our community. We do not accept letters on national topics from individuals who live outside our print circulation area. Please include your name, address and a daytime telephone number with your letter. You may mail it to us at Sewanee Mountain Messenger, P.O. Box 296, Sewanee, TN 37375, leave it at our office, 418 St. Mary's Ln., or send your email to <news@sewaneemessenger.

Published as a public service to the community since 1985, this newspaper is printed on Fridays, 46 times a year. Free of charge, copies are distributed to 100 locations, including businesses and post offices across the Plateau. This publication is made possible by the patronage of our advertisers and by contributions from the University of the South (print production) and the Sewanee Community Chest.

Emily, Jim and Mac Frith with Corner Market Catering also must be recognized for the muchcomplimented buffet dinner they prepared for the reception. Their delicious fare certainly added to a memorable evening.

Courtney Smith Photography was omnipresent with her camera during the wedding weekend. We are eagerly awaiting her pictures, knowing they will be beautiful.

We must also thank Aaron Welch of Big A Marketing who not only printed the much-needed directional signs pointing our guests to the various venues, but also designed the handsome programs used during the ceremony.

Who could forget Maria of M & M Bakery (Altamont) who designed and created the mouthwatering wedding cake and groom's cupcakes. We recommend her highly!

Lastly, Reliable Rentals of Winchester, who provided the tables, chairs and dinnerware and Jessica Gunn in the Office Coordinator for Facilty Rentals also deserve our thanks for all their help in facilitating and setting up the reception

As you can readily see, it really does "take a village" and our family couldn't be more grateful and appreciative for all who came together to make this a very special and memorable weekend for our daughter, her new husband and our entire family.

CAUTION AT LAKE CHESTION

To the Editor:

Sewanee's "Dream Team" - Ken a piece of sampling equipment and Lynn Taylor and their "Secret caught on the bottom of Lake Cheston near the dam. In an abundance of caution, the Office of Risk Management has closed Lake always remembered. Ken and Lynn Cheston to swimming in the area could be seen all around Sewanee between the swim platform and the dam. The swim platform itself remains open as well as the beach area. A followup announcement will be made when the object has been removed from the lake.

Annual STEM Picnic

The 17th (mostly) annual celebration of the Southeast Tennessee Episcopal Ministry will be at 11 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 18, at the DuBose Conference Center, Monteagle. There will be Holy Eucharist followed by a pot luck lunch under the pavilion. On this Sunday, there will not be in-person worship at Trinity Episcopal Church, Winchester, Christ Church, Tracy City, and Epiphany Mission, Sherwood.

STEM will provide fried chicken and beverages, so please bring a side-dish or dessert to share (and bring a friend, too!) Be a part of this beautiful outdoor celebration and be a part of the worship, the singing and the fellowship. Du-Bose is located at 635 College St, Monteagle. For more information call (931) 967-0898.

Acting Provost Scott Wilson will chair a group tasked with addressing policy questions about who has access to University rental housing executive director of the Tennessee and questions about demand—the number of units needed, the type of housing, and for how long. Wilson said a survey was underway "to get a handle on demand." He observed some employees wanted to live in rental housing "quite a while" beyond the current three-year limit. Non-university rentals "might relieve the burden on the University."

Asked about renovation of University rental housing, Wilson said Senate appointed Pressnell to the $150,000, annually, was allocated for that purpose in 2018. The pandemic and the difficulty of renovating occupied rentals has delayed progress. Plans call for renovations this coming year.

Providing an update on senior living initiatives, Solomon, who serves on the Arcadia board as well as the council, said a research firm would conduct a survey to gather information to guide design of Arcadia, the proposed Sewanee senior living facility. Area residents will be asked about location, price, and service preferences. In another initiative, the Arcadia board has partnered with Folks at Home to introduce LiveWell by Blakeford in the Sewanee community. The lifetime-care membership program offers transportation, home care, and other services for those choosing to age at home. Blakeford, which also operates a live-in facility in Nashville, recently hired a registered nurse to serve the Sewanee area.

June Weber, Sewanee Community Funding Project chair, said the Roberson Project prepared a detailed grant application requesting the funds to repair St. Mark's Community Center. The application noted $7,000 total was needed, but the Center would seek donations from other sources, as well, and also plans to establish a fund to address future maintenance needs.

Theologian Dr. Mark Jordan to Give Lecture Series

On Wednesday, Sept. 28, the School of Theology at the University of the South welcomes guest lecturer Dr. Mark Jordan of Harvard Divinity School. His series titled "The Word after Babel—Writing Theology Here and Now" will be held in Guerry Auditorium on the campus of the University of the South. The lectures are free and open to the public. All are welcome and encouraged to attend. The lecture times and titles

"The Word after Babel—Writing Theology Here and Now"

9 a.m.: "Theological Style and Beauty's Revolutions"

1 p.m.: "Theological Prophecy and the Risk of Slogans'

3 p.m: "Theological Silences and the Smallness of Writing' For more information visit <www.alumnilectures.sewanee.edu>.

"We are excited to welcome Dr. Jordan to the University of the South. His lecture series is greatly anticipated by our faculty, students and alumni, many of whom will be in attendance," says the Very Rev. James Turrell, vice provost and dean of the School of Theology. "I believe Dr. Jordan's presence on campus will have a wide appeal. I'd personally like to encourage members of our local and regional community to attend these thought-provoking lectures," concludes Turrell.

In this three-part lecture series Jordan will make plain the basic questions about how to write Christian theology. "On the one hand, it shouldn't be reduced to just another word-product, turned out against a strict deadline. On the other hand, it shouldn't be raised up into unattainable remoteness, restricted to geniuses and Saints," explains Jordan about the perceived styles of theological writing. In the lectures Jordan will answer the question: "What kinds of writing are possible between these two misconceptions?" Using half a dozen recent examples, Jordan will explore theological writing that "brings the divine otherness of theological writing within our reach."

Mark Jordan is a scholar of Christian theology, European philosophy, and gender studies. At Harvard Divinity School, where he is Richard Reinhold Niebuhr Research Professor of Divinity, he taught courses on the Western traditions of Christian soul-shaping, the relations of religion to art or literature, and the prospects for sexual ethics. Dr. Jordan will guide us through the ways in which the Anglican and Episcopal tradition shapes our common language, and our understanding of God.

Finding Flannel

Day temperatures dropping into the 70s and nights into the 50s could spark a search for flannel — either to wear or to eat.

The term flannel cake first appeared in 1792 and referred to a coarse oatcake, usually eaten at breakfast. The use of the term meaning pancake followed the Appalachian mountains as pioneers headed south from Pennsylvania. At about the same time the Welsh created a type of cloth called flannel. They took wool cloth and then brushed it with metal combs. The friction raised small fibers to the cloth's surface. These fibers trapped and held warm air, important in the chilly damp Welsh weather, at least eight months of the year.

In the 19th century, factory weaving replaced home production of cloth. In the United States, producers replaced the wool fibers in flannel with cotton, which was much more readily available in America than in Wales. Flannel was quickly adopted for winter sheets, nightgowns

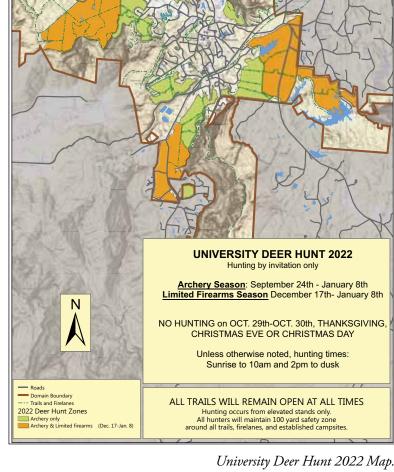

The idea of plaid flannel may come from a Scottish immigrant named Jock McCluskey who brought his clan plaid with him. The plaids were created by independent weavers who designed patterns specific to their surrounding villages. In 1850 Woolrich (a brand still alive today) introduced the 'buffalo' black and red plaid done in flannel fabric. The warm shirts were adopted by pioneers and outdoorsmen back East who wanted to look tough. In 1924 Pendleton Mills (another brand we see at the Shop) created a line of wool plaid flannel shirts for men which sold nation-wide. Women weren't offered the 'working man's shirt' plaid until 1949.

A flannel shirt, whatever the color, evokes ties to working class values. In 1978, in his quest to be governor of Tennessee, LaMar Alexander walked 1,000 miles across the state wearing a red and black flannel shirt. The stunt built his reputation and garnered him the governorship for eight years. Pearl Jam and Ice Cube both sported flannel shirts in the 1990s.

Flannel comes in a variety of 'weights', referring to the grams per meter of fabric. According to ScienceDirect the weight "influences other fabric properties such as thickness, flexural rigidity, bending rigidity, drape, air permeability and thermal properties. For example, the lighter the fabric, the lower its bending rigidity." Basically, if we hold a flannel shirt up to the light and we can see through it, chances are it won't survive many washings and still look good.

We do have flannel shirts and even pajamas at the Hospitality Shop, but they come and go quickly. We put out new items daily in all departments, so stop by regularly. Bring your parents this weekend. The Blue Chair doesn't offer flannels (pancakes) but they do have waffles from 8 a.m. until noon on Saturday. And of course, there's Waffle House in in 2000 in response to community

The Hospitality Shop is open 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday. The Shop is located at 1096 University Ave., Sewanee.

opens portions of the Domain to hunting every year. The hunt began concern over increasing deer population numbers and their impacts on the community and forest lar University archery season will understory.

During the last 22 years, more than 2,100 animals have been safely harvested in and around central campus. The population of deer in Sewanee peaked in 2010 at 145 deer per square mile, approximately six times the herd density recommended by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. At the time, our ratio of does to bucks was in excess of 9 to 1, which creates an incredibly high annual reproductive rate. This ratio is the metric we track most closely to ensure that our population remains in check. In 2021 our doe to buck ratio is 2 to 1 in hunted areas, but remains many times that in areas that are not hunted.

The goals of the hunt are to reduce the total density of whitetailed deer on the Domain to approximately 25 deer per square mile, with a balanced sex ratio of n those issued by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency for our sources/university-hunt-rules-2020. pdf>. Scott Lee to Address Sunday Forum

This week in Sunday Forum, the Rev. Scott Lee will speak on "Aspects of the Community in which Jesus Lived and of the Community Jesus Gathered around Him." A graduate of both the college ('73) and the School of Theology ('92), Lee also has a master's degree in English Literature from Vanderbilt ('78). He was ordained in 1992 and has served Sewanee in 2018 and is currently preparing for certification as a spiritual director. He is passionate about Hawai'i, The Divine Comedy, and being

The Sunday Forum at the Parish of St. Mark & St. Paul meets each Sunday, 9:45-10:45 a.m., in Kennerly Hall, the main gathering space in the parish house behind the church. The class is also livestreamed on the church's FaceBook page. All in the community are welcome.

Barganier in Concert at Angel Park

Come to Angel Park for an evening of folk music with singer-songwriter Jack Barganier, C'20. This free event is at 7 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 24. Barganier released his first EP earlier this year and has since launched his music career in New York City. In his EP, titled "Dead Flowers on the Window Sill," Barganier reflects on what it means to come of age and search for meaning in today's world. With a deep interest in the passing of time, and making the most of the time given us, Barganier's lyrics espouse a kind of spirituality that centers around the simple things in life. Eager to explore the beautiful and painful moments in life, Barganier looks for redemption where joy and sorrow overlap. His live shows feature an exciting mix of his original music and classic folk covers by legends of the genre such as Bob Dylan and Townes van Zandt.

Sewanee AngelFest, Oct. 7

The 11th annual AngelFest will be at 4:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 7, in Angel Park, downtown Sewanee. Some of the activities include Make and Take Art, Science Fun, a bounce house and a water slide.

There will be plenty of food and refreshments available for purchase. University Avenue will be closed to traffic to ensure everyone's safety.

At 6:30 p.m., Jimmy Hall, the famous musician from the band Wet Willy, will take the stage. His unique brand of R&B-infused rock and congregations in Tennessee, Arkansas, and Connecticut. He retired to roll and onstage swagger propelled the group's signature song "Keep on Smilin" to the Top 10 on the Billboard singles chart in 1974.

Over the years, Jimmy has been involved in other musical endeavors including The Nighthawks; Betts, Hall Leavell, and Trucks; and the Gregg Allman Band, and he has appeared as a featured guest artist with multiple groups.

The Reverse Raffle will also take place at this year's AngelFest. Tickets are on sale for $100 each. The grand prize will be awarded during the evening festivities up to $5,000 (depending on total ticket sales). The raffle proceeds will be going to Housing Sewanee and Sewanee Angel Park. Tickets will be for sale up to the drawing. Tickets may also be purchased at the Blue Chair and the Frame Gallery, or on the website at http://www.sewaneevillage.com/park/>.

This is event is free to the community and is sponsored by the Sewanee Business Alliance and the AngelFest sponsors.

Caverns Inaugural CaveFest

On Oct. 8 and 9, incredible music and breathtaking caves come together to create the first-ever CaveFest. Featuring headlining acts Sam Bush, Leftover Salmon, The Infamous Stringdusters, and Yonder Mountain String Band the inaugural festival will take full advantage of what The Caverns has to offer above and below ground.

Scheduled for a holiday weekend, headlining performances will take place at The Caverns Amphitheater with breathtaking mountain views and ample space for blankets, chairs and dancing. Other bands performing include: Rising Appalachia, Jim Lauderdale, Kitchen Dwellers, The Lil Smokies, Sierra Hull, Rumpke Mountain Boys, Lindsay Lou, Larry Keel Experience, Volunteer String Band, Pressing Strings, Sicard Hollow, Kendall Street Company, Rock Creek Bluegrass, Airshow and Taylor Scott Band.

The Caverns world-famous underground concert hall will host daily jam sessions, cave yoga, and even a screening of the 1985 classic "The Goonies." There will be on-site camping and food trucks, as well as local art and craft vendors.

For more information and to purchase tickets go to <a href="https://www. tixr.com/groups/thecavernsamphitheater/events/cavefest-at-the-cav-

Community Arts & Crafts Fair and Trash & Treasures Yard Sale

Come shop for the delightful crafts made by people in our community, and see what treasures you can find in the Trash and Treasures Yard Sale. The event will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14 and 15, at the Morton Memorial United Methodist Church in Monteagle.

The event is a fundraiser for Morton's missions, including the church's monthly food ministry and Isaiah 117 House.

There will be Fall and Christmas Crafts – a great time to get some Christmas shopping done. And a chance to find a treasure among your neighbors' down-sizing cast offs. There will also be some food to eat while you browse or to take home with you.

If you want to participate with your own crafts and/or treasures, contact Carol Bennett at (931) 924-2863 for details and to sign up. Deadline to reserve a space is Oct. 1.

The event will be in front of and inside the church's Fellowship Center, which is to the right of the sanctuary.

Tell them you saw it here! Advertisers do make the news go 'round.

Reavis Show 'Scripts' in Cowan

The Franklin County Arts Guild is pleased to announce the new show, "Scripts," a solo presentation of new work by Sewanee based artist, Austin Reavis. The exhibition continues through Saturday, Oct. 30. A Meet the Artist reception will be at 5 p.m., Friday, Reavis is a young artist working abstractly in a variety of media on paper, approaching his work with gestural mark-making and experimental combinations that include handmade pastels, gouache, and powdered pigments. The title "Scripts" refers both to the ancient idea of texts, and writing, while also referring to the current practice of coding, which involves a program or sequence of instructions that is interpreted or carried out via computer. Austin's current work illustrates both approaches, incorporating the handmade, while also working in series under certain conditions and formulas that deliver unexpected and distinct visual outcomes.

Reavis graduated with a B.F.A. in Sculpture from the Herron School of Art and Design in Indianapolis Indiana in 2010. He is a current member of COOP gallery in Nashville. His work is featured in the permanent collections at the Metro Courthouse, Nashville, IUPUI Library, Indianapolis, and St. Andrew's-Sewanee School, Sewanee.

The Artisan Depot is operated by the Franklin County Arts Guild and is located at 204 Cumberland St. East, Cowan. Gallery hours are noon to 5 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays, and Sundays and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays. More information can be found at http://www. franklincoarts.org/>.

Fall Tennessee Craft Fair

Tennessee Craft presents the 44th annual Fall Tennessee Craft Fair, Oct. 7, 8 and 9, in Nashville's iconic Centennial Park. Artists from across the nation will exhibit their handmade craft on the Great Lawn adjacent to the Parthenon, showcasing original artwork from clay, jewelry and leather to wood, glass, painting and more.

Fair hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday. For more details, maps and event information, please visit <www.tennesseecraft. org/fallfair>.

Meadow Trail

This is a great time of year for an easy walk on the Meadow Trail behind the South Cumberland State Park Visitor Center. As you set out on the trail, the area on the left has been restored and maintained to favor tall native prairie-type grasses — Big Bluestem, Little Bluestem, Indian Grass, and Switch Grass. There is also a lot of Partridge Pea in that area, with bright yellow flowers and "pea-pod" type fruits. The majority of the other plants in bloom are members of the aster family, especially the asters themselves, the thoroughworts, and some goldenrods. There may be at least five asters with little white flowering heads: Bushy, White Heath, Tall Flat-Topped White, Narrow-Leaf White-Topped, and Calico, to use the common names in the Horn and Cathcart guide to Wildflowers of Tennessee. Numerous thoroughworts had clusters of even smaller whitish flowers. The most notable was boneset, with opposite leaves connected around the stem. The whole group of thoroughworts was given this common name for the way this species seems to have the stem growing "through" the leaves. Half a dozen goldenrod species (Giant, Sweet, Gray, Erect, Sharpleaf, and Canada) show yellow bloom. A big patch of bright yellow sunflowers are Ashy Sunflower. Ironweed is past blooming but the large domed flower heads of Joe-Pye Weed are still mauve-colored. Keep an eye out for the tiny pink heads of Candyroot or Curtiss' Milkwort, usually in an open dry area. A special treat would be finding the beautiful blue blooms of Soapwort Gentian, also known as Harvest Bells.

After reading in Nature Notes about John Palisano's experience with hairy woodpeckers at his hummingbird feeders, Deryl Walker of Alto wrote: "I have had a male-and-female pair of Downy Woodpeckers coming to one of my hummingbird feeders all summer! I have five feeders out, one especially for the Woodpeckers!"

Plateau Guided Hike ($5/12 and under; $10/ adults)—Meet Park Ranger Mark Greenwood at 8:15 a.m. at Savage Gulf Ranger Station, 3157 S. R. 399, Palmer, for a 9.3-mile (round trip, approximate) basic, introductory hike covering portions of the Day Loop, North Plateau, Mountain Oak and North Rim trails on the east side of Savage Gulf. The hike is typically completed in 5-6 hours, depending on the group's ability levels. Bring desired water and food, and wear sturdy shoes in which to hike. This hike will take place weather permitting. Note: the areas around overlooks can be treacherous in terms of keeping your footing. The potential to slip and fall exists, and extreme care is needed.

Saturday, Sept. 24

10-Mile Guided Hike ($5)—Meet Interpretor J.D. Dickerson at 7:45 a.m. at Stone Door Ranger Station, 1183 Stone Door Rd, Beersheba Springs, for an intermediate, approximately 10-mile roundtrip hike, beginning and ending at Stone Door Ranger Station. You will see Stone Door, Greeter Falls, Boardtree Falls, several Gulf overlooks, and the old Greeter homestead. As the hike will last all day, please bring all sufficient gear (backpack, packed lunch, additional snacks, plenty of water, sturdy shoes and any other needed items. The hiking route is fairly flat, but there is some elevation around the Greeter Falls area. There will be plenty of breaks, and the group will stick together so that nobody gets left behind. The usual cautions regarding hiking around overlooks apply.

New Moon Night Hike to Great Stone Door ($10) (This hike is limited to the first 10 people who pre-register. Please pre-register at link above)—Join Park Ranger Spencer Baxter at 6:45 p.m. at Stone Door Ranger Station, 1183 Stone Door Rd., Beersheba Springs, for a 2-mile roundtrip hike to several overlooks to experience the night sky in beautiful Savage Gulf State Natural Area. Bring your own (non-phone) headlamp, sturdy hiking boots, appropriate clothing for the weather and your spirit of adventure!

Thursday, Sept. 29

Rappelling for Beginners ($20) (Ages 10 and up)—Meet Park Ranger Jason Reynolds at 9:45 a.m. at Sherwood Forest Parking Lot (take Jumpoff Road to Old CCC Camp Rd., go to just past Coyote Cove Lane), for an introduction to rappelling. Since the early days of the sport, South Cumberland State Park has been a regional destination for rappelling. The gear and techniques have changed over the years but the beautiful sandstone cliffs are just as awe-inspiring and exhilerating. If you have a love of high places, or are just curious, join Ranger Jason for this event.

The South Cumberland State Park Visitors' Center is located on U.S. Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., seven days a week. For more information call (931) 924-2980.

Blender

MARC's Mountain Adoptables Meet Blender & Sandy

How can you resist Blender? He is well adapted, spunky, friendly, good with other cats and dogs and children even though just a few weeks ago he was thrown out of a car window with his sister (who is just as irresistible as he is) when not even fully weaned. Blender is playful, curious, smart and fearless, and gets along great with everybody in a house full of dogs and other cats. He loves life and plays very well with his sister and then is ready to cuddle up in your lap. Blender is litter box trained (and never goes outside the litter box) and has a very healthy appetite. Just in case the pics don't show it well, he's a gray tabby with a spotted tummy and a full set of cute white "booties." Blender will bring hours of fun to some lucky family. Apply today to Sandy is full of life, ready for the most any fun adventure you might have in mind. His foster mom says he is so sweet and lovable. In the evening his foster dad invites him into his lap and Sandy cuddles on his chest. Sandy is very smart and is motivated by treats. He knows a few commands but would like to learn more and how to be the best dog ever. Sandy is very strong and will want a forever person who can work with him and help him to control some of he exuberance. If you are ready for active adventures and lots of lovin', Sandy is your guy.

Apply now. If you would like to learn more about Blender and Sandy, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www. marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

BIGGER AND MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN EVER!

FROMBARDTOVERSE

by Robin Bates

Birthday of Alfred Noyes, Born Sept. 16, 1880

There's a barrel-organ caroling across a golden street In the City as the sun sinks low;

And the music's not immortal; but the world has made it sweet And fulfilled it with the sunset glow;

And it pulses through the pleasures of the City and the pain That surround the singing organ like a large eternal light; And they've given it a glory and a part to play again In the Symphony that rules the day and night.

And now it's marching onward through the realms of old romance And trolling out a fond familiar tune,

And now it's roaring cannon down to fight the King of France, And now it's prattling softly to the moon,

And all around the organ there's a sea without a shore Of human joys and wonders and regrets; To remember and to recompense the music evermore

For what the cold machinery forgets....

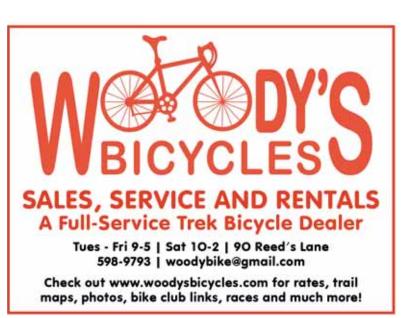

Yes; as the music changes, Like a prismatic glass, It takes the light and ranges Through all the moods that pass; Dissects the common carnival Of passions and regrets, And gives the world a glimpse of all The colors it forgets.

—Alfred Noyes, from The Barrel-Organ
