Annual Peace Pole Ceremony on Sept. 29

Sewanee Elementary School invites the community to join them for their annual Peace Pole ceremony at 8 a.m., Thursday, Sept. 29. The event is an opportunity for the school to learn how to say the phrase, “May Peace Prevail On Earth,” in a different language each year and for students to reflect on how they can help make their school, their homes, and their lives more peaceful. The ceremony is generally held between the International Day of Peace and United Nations Day. Languages recently added include Chinese, Romanian, and sign language. This year the school will add the phrase in Ukrainian.

During the assembly, the fourth-grade students will be sharing some of what they learned about Ukrainian culture and will teach the school community how to say May Peace Prevail on Earth in Ukrainian. The fifth graders will be performing a musical selection. Members of the community at large are invited to attend. Weather permitting, the ceremony will be held outside. Visitors to the school must sign in at the office when they enter the building.

Monteagle Planning Hears Laurel Lake Pollution Presentation

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Sept. 15 Monteagle Planning Commission meeting, Monteagle resident and structural engineer Jim Waller gave a 15-minute presentation documenting a violation of city ordinance regulating storm water runoff and pollution of Laurel Lake, Monteagle’s drinking water supply.

Waller, who designed the drainage system for the Miami airport, pointed to a February 2022 TDEC (Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation) Notice of Violation faulting the RBT/Petro developers for inadequate erosion prevention, inadequate sediment control, and discharging sediment into the waters of the state. Waller showed photos and video of the RBT-site storm water collection pond full above the pipe transferring the water to the city’s storm water drains, water overflowing the site’s silt barriers flooding the streets, and tracing the path of the mud and silt laden water travelling to Hidden Creek and into Laurel Lake. “What’s coming with the truck plaza,” Waller said, “is 115 truck parking slots. This is going to provide a different source of pollution travelling the same path. There are 16 fueling stations and 10 acres of impervious pavement.” The site could shed 2 million gallons of water in a 24-

Hunger Walk on Sept. 24

For the eighth year is a row, the Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Club will sponsor the annual Hunger Walk to benefit local organizations addressing food insecurity on the Mountain. The 2022 Hunger Walk will be at 10 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 24, with a walk along the Mountain Goat Trail from La Bella Pearl’s to Angel Park in Sewanee.

Last year’s hybrid walk was a week long event combining a virtual walk and an in-person walk and celebration. Proceeds and grants exceeded $46,000 for local organizations which help neighbors in need, such as Community Action Committee (Parish of St. Mark and St. Paul), Grundy County Food Bank and Morton Memorial Feeding Ministry. The goal of this year’s walk is $50,000.

According to Feeding America, 15.2 percent of Franklin County residents, 17.9 percent of Grundy County residents, and 15.6 percent of Marion County residents are food insecure. Many households that experience food insecurity also do not qualify for federal nutrition programs and visit their local food banks and other food programs for extra support. Go to <<https://www.feedingamerica.org/hunger-in-america>> for more information.

Registration fees are $25 for adults, $15 for students, $5 for children under 12. Donations are also accepted. Go to <<https://www.monteaglesewanee Rotary.org>>. Checks are accepted and made payable to the Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Foundation, Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary, P.O. Box 336, Monteagle, TN 37356.

SUD Applies for $1.32 Million in Grant Money

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

At the Sept. 20 meeting of the Sewanee Utility District Board of Commissioners, SUD manager Ben Beavers and President Charlie Smith reported on attending a recent Franklin County Commission meeting where they learned the county received clarification on American Recovery Plan (ARP) funding. SUD requested $1.32 million, with $234,000 coming from Franklin County as a match and $1,412,000 coming from ARP funds administered by the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC).

There was much uncertainty about the initial announcement of $4.8 million in ARP funding available to Franklin County. “The grant money is for rural utilities,” Smith said. “There are only three in the county, and we are one of them.” The money will be divided proportional to number of customers served, with Winchester Springs receiving the largest amount, followed by SUD, then Belvidere.

Beavers said TDEC and the Tennessee Association of Utility Districts devised a metric to measure utilities’ deficiencies. “The money must be spent on deficient areas,” Beavers said. Most utilities deficiencies fell in the areas of asset management, unaccounted for water loss, and inflow and infiltration (I&I). SUD’s only deficiency was 61 percent I&I (i.e., storm water entering the sanitary sewer system which increases the cost of wastewater treatment.) SUD has four years to spend the grant money. SUD must contribute a match of $234,000. Once SUD reduces I&I below 50 percent, the remaining grant money will be available for other projects such as replacement of lead fittings in the drinking water system.

Beavers also brought to the board’s attention the need for an “inactive meter” policy. SUD has 30-40 inactive meters, Beavers said. Meters became inactive when a house burned, was torn down, the residents died, or the residents moved away. Sometimes the property owners notified SUD not to read the meter, as no one lived in the residence, in which case SUD turned the meter off. In a few instances, meters declared

PARKING IN BIKE LANES IS A REAL DANGER

To the Editor:

I am confused and disheartened that the bike lanes continue to be clotted, especially during the mornings and at 3 p.m. when children ranging in age from 6 to 11 are trying to ride their bikes to and from school. Sewanee Elementary has been in session for six weeks; the University has been in session for four. I have written directly to University administrators and the police on three occasions with no improvement.

This parking issue is not just occasional and due to a special event or even construction. This is clearly students driving to class, to meals, to work out, when they all live within a mile of these destinations. What is the purpose of the bike lane? It is clearly now more dangerous to have one because it leads children to think they will be safe when they are in the lane, and they are not safe. I have not seen any tickets being written, though I know, after speaking to two kind officers, that they have written some. The problem, apparently, is an appeals process that usually results in no payment by the offenders.

I'm not sure what else to do beyond encouraging community involvement in this issue. This is my respectful effort to improve (and preserve) life and sustainability in our community.

Yours,

Leigh Anne Couch, Sewanee

'Case of First Impression' in Sand-Plant Lawsuit

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

"This is a case of first impression," said Chancery Court Judge Melissa Willis in her opening and closing remarks at the Sept. 19 hearing for Tinsley Asphalt vs. Grundy County at the Grundy County Courthouse in Altamont. A "case of first impression" presents a legal issue that has never been decided by the governing jurisdiction. At issue was whether the Tinsley Asphalt sand plant bordering three residential communities violated the Grundy County Powers Act.

Passed in 2019, the County Powers Act gives the county authority to regulate nuisance activities. The licensure required for operating a sand plant restricts sand and gravel extraction and topsoil removal and prohibits operating a sand and gravel quarry within 5,000 feet of a residence. [See Messenger, February 10, 2022]

Tinsley attorney Clifton Miller argued the "They [Grundy County] cannot regulate land use in the way they have done with the county powers act." Miller cited two Tennessee court cases as the authority setting the standard for whether an ordinance had regulatory powers and claimed the Powers Act did not satisfy the standard.

Judge Willis and Grundy County attorney Bill Reider both noted the cases cited by Miller referenced local zoning plans in establishing regulatory authority. Grundy County does not have a zoning plan. Reider said he could find no cases on record where the court ruled on regulatory authority under a county powers act.

Miller countered, "There doesn't have to be a comprehensive zoning plan" for the standard set by the two Tennessee cases to apply.

Miller also maintained state code stipulated "a county shall not regulate distance and land use if they are regulated by the Tennessee Air Quality Act and Tennessee Clean Water Act." Tinsley had acquired a Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation water discharge permit and a temporary construction permit regulating air quality. In dispute, Reider insisted "the purpose [of the acts] is to ensure we have proper air and water quality. There is nothing in those acts that regulate location. [TDEC regulations] are about air and water quality standards, not where [a business] is located. Are you 100 feet from a house? Are you next door to where people live?"

In Franklin County, Tinsley is regulated because Franklin County enacted zoning, Miller responded. The county powers act does not allow for "piecemeal regulation."

Willis said she needed to determine if there were any cases that were "factually the same." She reiterated the lawsuit was "a case of first impression meaning there is not another one like it." Willis will deliver a verdict by email notification Sept. 26.

inactive and not being read had been turned back on by someone and showed usage when the property sold. The other problem noted by Beavers was SUD losing track of the inactive meters since meters showing no use eventually dropped off the system's database.

"If there is a meter, they [the customers] need to pay a minimum bill of $13," Beavers suggested. He also proposed if the customer opted to have the meter removed rather than paying the minimum bill fee, the customer would be assessed a tap fee for a new meter should they choose to reinstate service.

"Having a meter is a benefit if they sell the property," commissioner Ronnie Hoosier said.

Smith pointed out electric utilities charged a minimum bill.

Beavers will determine the exact number of inactive meters. The board will take up the policy at the October meeting.

Reporting on the project to narrow Highway 41A, Beavers said the contractor charged SUD an additional $6,000 for manholes purchased and never installed. When the contractor did the change order revising the project design, the manholes were not needed, Beavers explained. SUD will do manhole rehabilitation in conjunction with addressing I&I and plans to use the manholes then.

The Tennessee Department of Transportation has decided not to close out the project until the end of the year, Beavers said. SUD will not know its final cost until then, delaying its request to the University for help paying for the water and sewer line relocation necessitated by the project.

hour rainstorm, according to Waller. "We must assume there will be oil and fuel spills that wash into the water supply," Waller insisted. "The RBT site plan [approved by the planning commission] did not have any oil separators at all." He cited a Monteagle ordinance which states, "All car washes, truck washes, garages, service stations, car and truck maintenance facilities, fabricators, utility equipment shops, and other facilities that have sources of sand, soil, and oil shall install effective traps, interceptors, and oil/water separators."

Waller reached the end of his 15-minute time allotment without finishing his presentation and was not allowed to continue. Asked if the commission could discuss the information presented, Planning Commission Chair Iva Michelle Russell said, "We're not allowed to discuss it because [the lawsuit against the town] is in appeal." [See Messenger Aug. 5, 2022]

Resident Mary Beth Best, paraphrasing, cited an email from TDEC official Jennifer Innes stating, "flooding and drainage issues are for the city of Monteagle to address."

Monteagle Alderman Nate Wilson proposed the town amend the ordinance governing building permit renewal. Currently, building permits expire after six months and can be renewed. Wilson recommended the ordinance be amended to "allow one sixth month extension, and after that, if no reasonable progress had been made in one year, the project goes back to the planning commission for further site plan approval." Justifying the need for the ordinance, Wilson said, "If there's no activity after a year, there's time for the town to have different ordinances, and in this particular instance, we have MTAS working on a storm water ordinance for Monteagle ... the town could ask for a new building permit." Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman said, according to building codes inspector Earl Geary, the RBT/Petro building permit had been renewed. The commission will take up the proposed amendment at the Oct. 4 meeting.

In other business, the commission approved two ordinance amendments and recommended forwarding them to the council for approval: rezoning a tract on Catherine Avenue from Residential 1 to Commercial 2 and adopting the Accessory Dwelling Units provisions drafted at the Aug. 29 workshop.

Babson Center Welcomes Michael McMurray Campus Lecture on Sept. 29

Michael McMurray, executive vice president and chief financial officer, LyondellBasell Industries, will be the Babson Center's 2022 Graham Executive-in-Residence for the Advent semester. While on campus, McMurray will deliver a campus presentation titled, "A View from the CFO: Does ESG really matter — and why?," at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 29, in the Torian Room at duPont Library, co-sponsored by the Departments of Economics and Finance.

LyondellBasell (NYSE:LYB) is one of the largest plastics, chemicals, and refining companies with over 19,000 employees around the globe. This year, it was named one of Fortune Magazine's "World's Most Admired Companies" for the fifth consecutive year.

McMurray brings a wealth of corporate finance experience to this conversation. Prior to his position at LyondellBasell, McMurray had an 11 year career at Owen Corning Inc. serving as vice president, Investor Relations and treasurer; vice president, Finance for the Building Materials Group; and, for over seven years, as chief financial officer. He spent 21 years with Royal Dutch Shell including as vice president, Shell Capital; global treasurer for Shell Chemicals; and Americas Finance manager for the Lubricants business.

Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) is a framework that helps stakeholders understand how an organization is managing risks and opportunities related to environmental, social, and corporate governance criteria. (Corporate Finance Institute)

McMurray will provide perspective on how multinational companies are addressing ESG and the increased expectations for publicly traded companies. This is a particularly timely discussion given the Security and Exchange Commission's (SEC) proposal to require ESG reporting as part of annual financial reporting. With the growth of global sustainable investments, which are predicted to surpass $41 trillion in 2022, the SEC seeks accuracy and consistency in the standards and transparency of environmental and social impacts. Increased scrutiny of ESGs can make its performance as critical to a company's success as profitability and financial performance.

McMurray resides in Houston, Texas. He earned a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from Trinity University in San Antonio and an MBA from Tulane University in New Orleans.

The Graham Executive in Residence program was established by Diane and Henry H. Graham Jr. of Jacksonville, Fla. The Graham residencies bring distinguished business leaders to the Sewanee campus to offer insight into business leadership issues and engage students in important business and society topics of the day. For more information about the Babson Center for Global Commerce and our events, please visit: <babsoncgc.sewanee.edu>.

All are welcome to attend. Masks are optional.

The dedication service will immediately follow, beginning at 5:10 p.m. The Artist Talk is free and open to the public. All are welcome and encouraged to attend. Theologian Dr. Mark Jordan to Give Lecture Series

On Wednesday, Sept. 28, the School of Theology at the University of the South welcomes guest lecturer Dr. Mark Jordan of Harvard Divinity School. His series titled "The Word after Babel—Writing Theology Here and Now" will be held in Guerry Auditorium on the campus of the University of the South. The lectures are free and open to the public. All are welcome and encouraged to attend. The lecture times and titles are as follows:

"The Word after Babel—Writing Theology Here and Now"

9 a.m.: "Theological Style and Beauty's Revolutions"

1 p.m.: "Theological Prophecy and the Risk of Slogans"

3 p.m.: "Theological Silences and the Smallness of Writing"

For more information visit <www.alumnilectures.sewanee.edu>.

"We are excited to welcome Dr. Jordan to the University of the South. His lecture series is greatly anticipated by our faculty, students and alumni, many of whom will be in attendance," says the Very Rev. James Turrell, vice provost and dean of the School of Theology. "I believe Dr. Jordan's presence on campus will have a wide appeal. I'd personally like to encourage members of our local and regional community to attend these thought-provoking lectures," concludes Turrell.

In this three-part lecture series Jordan will make plain the basic questions about how to write Christian theology. "On the one hand, it shouldn't be reduced to just another word-product, turned out against a strict deadline. On the other hand, it shouldn't be raised up into unattainable remoteness, restricted to geniuses and Saints," explains Jordan about the perceived styles of theological writing. In the lectures Jordan will answer the question: "What kinds of writing are possible between these two misconceptions?" Using half a dozen recent examples, Jordan will explore theological writing that "brings the divine otherness of theological writing within our reach."

Mark Jordan is a scholar of Christian theology, European philosophy, and gender studies. At Harvard Divinity School, where he is Richard Reinhold Niebuhr Research Professor of Divinity, he taught courses on the Western traditions of Christian soul-shaping, the relations of religion to art or literature, and the prospects for sexual ethics. Dr. Jordan will guide us through the ways in which the Anglican and Episcopal tradition shapes our common language, and our understanding of God.

Cardboard Recycling Reminder

Franklin County has cardboard recycling dumpsters at various locations around Sewanee. When you recycle cardboard, please break down the boxes so that more can fit in the containers. Some people are not collapsing the boxes or are throwing the cardboard on the ground. This means that county workers, and sometimes even neighbors, have to clean it up.

Please do not throw regular trash in the cardboard recycling dumpsters. When regular trash goes into the cardboard recycling container, county workers and others have to take those bags out of the container.

If the container you wish to use is full, take your cardboard to the Franklin County Convenience Center located at 132 Missouri Ave., Sewanee. It is open 1–6 p.m. on Mondays; 3–6 p.m., Tuesdays–Fridays; and 8 a.m.–4 p.m., Saturdays. It is closed on national holidays.

University Deer Hunt 2022 Map.

University Hunting Program

The University of the South opens portions of the Domain to hunting every year. The hunt began in 2000 in response to community concern over increasing deer population numbers and their impacts on the community and forest understory.

During the last 22 years, more than 2,100 animals have been safely harvested in and around central campus. The population of deer in Sewanee peaked in 2010 at 145 deer per square mile, approximately six times the herd density recommended by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. At the time, our ratio of does to bucks was in excess of 9 to 1, which creates an incredibly high annual reproductive rate. This ratio is the metric we track most closely to ensure that our population remains in check.

In 2021 our doe to buck ratio is 2 to 1 in hunted areas, but remains many times that in areas that are not hunted. The goals of the hunt are to reduce the total density of white-tailed deer on the Domain to approximately 25 deer per square mile, with a balanced sex ratio of one buck per doe. In order to better achieve these goals, the university hunt has harvest restrictions and quotas that are more stringent than those issued by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency for our area. To review the specific rules for the hunt see the 2022 hunt rules <<https://new.sewanee.edu/files/resources/university-hunt-rules-2020.pdf>>. For details on why and how deer are managed on the domain, see the white-tailed deer management plan 2016 <<https://new.sewanee.edu/files/resources/white-tail-deer-management-plan-final-1-26-2016-2.pdf>>.

Beginning on Sept. 24, the regular University archery season will begin. This invitation-only hunt is generally open to all approved University faculty and staff, as well as their direct relatives (spouses, adult children, and parents). The hunt is also open to approved students. All participants must complete the Tennessee Bowhunter Safety Course (or other state equivalent) and in a TWRA Bowhunter Safety Field day. Hunters must also undergo a background check by the Sewanee Police Department, and participate in all mandatory meetings. All hunters are required to possess valid TN type 94 or sportsman's license and follow all TWRA rules and regulations at all times. For information on participating in the hunt, email Domain Management <domain@sewanee.edu>.

SEWANEENOW AND THEN

Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation

The following is from Sewanee edited by Lily Baker et al, and publish in 1932. The book was republished under the title "Purple Sewanee" in 1961.

In the summer of "70" and "71" the white laboring men of the town, led by a desperado named Rose, undertook to run all the negroes off the mountain. A negro carpenter brought here by Professor Dabney was almost cut to pieces and left for dead close to the site of Orey Memorial Church. There was great excitement, you may well imagine, and for nights the streets were patrolled by students under the command of Colonel Sevier, drill master and proctor. The proctor in those days was town marshal and everything else. His hands were kept full for the depot element was perfectly lawless and some of the students were almost as bad. Colonel Sevier was a splendid type of soldier; commanding presence and perfectly fearless, just the man for the times. He put down the trouble at the depot by walking into Rose's cabin and arresting him, though his friends were about him and pistols were plentiful in the air.

The "negro carpenter" and the "desperado named Rose" have not been more definitively identified. Professor Dabney was Robert Dabney the university's professor of metaphysics and English literature from 1870 to 1876. Professor Dabney did construct a house in Sewanee in 1872. Colonel Sevier was Theodore F. Sevier. He was Confederate veteran and, in addition to proctor, served as bursar of the university and master of the grammar school. A search for contemporary documentation of the events described produced only one possible reference. A line in the March 30, 1871, issue of the Winchester Home Journal reads: "A number of young gentlemen connected to the University of the South have been indicted for carrying concealed weapons."

tnAchieves Needs 4,500 Volunteer Mentors

With just one month until the Oct. 21, 2022 deadline, tnAchieves needs 4,500 additional volunteer mentors to serve the TN Promise Class of 2023. 24 mentors are still needed in Franklin County.

While tnAchieves is more than halfway to its goal of recruiting 9,000 mentors for 2023, there remains a significant need for volunteer mentors. As tnAchieves works to reverse negative college-enrollment trends seen during the pandemic by introducing innovative programs to better serve students, there is no more exciting time to volunteer as a tnAchieves mentor.

Ultimately, tnAchieves mentors help students realize their full potential as a college student. Many TN Promise students will be the first in their family to go to college, and the encouragement a mentor provides can be the push a student needs to achieve college success! "I wouldn't have gotten this far without a mentor behind me through this journey!" says Shychuria, a tnAchieves college graduate. "They taught me that no matter where you come from, it's about where you are going! It's important to chase your dreams!"

tnAchieves mentors not only help students to achieve their college-going goals and contribute to growing their community's workforce. "Attending college and using TN Promise allowed me to gain a solid academic foundation. It also allowed me to stay home and remain connected with family, friends and my community," said Sara, a tnAchieves college graduate. "Now that I have graduated, I hope to return back to my hometown to start my career and serve my community!"

tnAchieves mentors help to ensure individual student success, but also the success of their communities long term!

By giving one hour per month, tnAchieves mentors provide critical support and encouragement for high school seniors in their community. All volunteers are provided training as well as ongoing support from the tnAchieves team. Those interested in applying or learning more can visit <<https://tnAchieves.org/mentors>>.

tnAchieves is a privately funded scholarship and mentoring program that seeks to provide an opportunity for every Tennessee student to earn a post-secondary degree. If you have questions about the tnAchieves mentoring program, please contact Tyler Ford at (309) 945-3446 or <tyler@tnAchieves.org>.

Tennessee Craft Launches Research Project that Explores Statewide History of Black Craft

Tennessee Craft announces the start this month of a new historical research project focused on the contributions of Black craft artists in Tennessee. The initial project will build a database of Black craft artists working in the state over the past century, placing their artwork in the broader context of living and making art in Tennessee since 1920.

Tennessee Craft has named Karlota Contreras-Koterbay as the primary researcher for this initiative. Potential candidates were invited to submit proposals to Tennessee Craft through an open RFP process. An independent selection panel including Dr. Earnestine Jenkins (University of Memphis) and Dr. Tiffany Momon (University of the South in Sewanee) selected Contreras-Koterbay's proposal for funding. Dr. Jenkins said, "Karlota Contreras-Koterbay's proposal is comprehensive and well-planned. It also highlights the importance of fundamental research in this area. I think [she] will produce something of significant historical value."

Karlota I. Contreras-Koterbay is an Appalachian-based Filipinx curator, artist and arts administrator. She is the Director of the Tipton and Slocumb Galleries under the Department of Art & Design at East Tennessee State University (ETSU), where she develops diverse, innovative and collaborative exhibitions and educational programs that serve the Appalachian Highland region. She curates and organizes multidisciplinary exhibitions by regional, emerging and nationally-renowned women, BIPOC, LGBTQ and Appalachian artists. She received her Master of Art in Art History and Bachelor of Art in Anthropology with honors from the University of the Philippines - Diliman.

The general public is invited to participate in the vital work to elevate the creative accomplishments and lives of Tennessee's Black craft artists, who may have previously been overlooked or excluded from participation in prominent craft venues. The initiative covers artists working in traditional craft mediums throughout the state from 1920-2020. Recommendations of Black craft artists to include in the database can be submitted online at <www.tennesseecraft.org/blackcraftartists>.

Contreras-Koterbay anticipates a public presentation of her research in Fall 2023. Updates on the progress of the Black craft history project and important findings will be shared on Tennessee Craft's Facebook and Instagram accounts and via the organization's website, <tennesseecraft.org>. For questions or to share information, contact <bmatthews@tennesseecraft.org>.

'Stay Healthy and Strong' at University Art Gallery

The University Art Gallery is delighted to present Nathalie Miebach's "Stay Healthy and Strong," on view through Oct. 9.

Beginning with numbers, Miebach tells stories. Meteorological data from extreme weather events, data about Covid-19 deaths and infection rates, and anecdotal information from news reports and social media are painstakingly translated into delicate, complex, colorful objects and musical scores.

Miebach's work asks us to consider the representation and interpretation of data. It makes overwhelming events intimate and personal, and asks us to connect numbers with experience.

Climate change and its devastating impact on communities, Covid-19 and our distance from our loved ones are made visible. Aesthetics is used to further the understanding of complex scientific systems.

The Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue between Convocation Hall and Guerry Hall. The hours are Tuesday-Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday-Sunday, noon to 4 p.m. The Gallery is closed during the summer and for all academic breaks.

"Macbeth" runs Sept. 23-25 at the Manchester Arts Center. Show times are 7:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, with a 2 p.m., Sunday matinee. For tickets go to <millenniumrep.org>. Shown are Kelly Lapczynski as Lady Macbeth and Rick Ruiz as Macbeth. Photo by RMS Photography and Design

Sewanee AngelFest, Oct. 7

The 11th annual AngelFest will be at 4:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 7, in Angel Park, downtown Sewanee. Some of the activities include Make and Take Art, Science Fun, a bounce house and a water slide.

There will be plenty of food and refreshments available for purchase. University Avenue will be closed to traffic to ensure everyone's safety.

At 6:30 p.m., Jimmy Hall, the famous musician from the band Wet Willy, will take the stage. His unique brand of R&B-infused rock and roll and onstage swagger propelled the group's signature song "Keep on Smilin'" to the Top 10 on the Billboard singles chart in 1974.

Over the years, Jimmy has been involved in other musical endeavors including The Nighthawks; Betts, Hall Leavell, and Trucks; and the Gregg Allman Band, and he has appeared as a featured guest artist with multiple groups.

The Reverse Raffle will also take place at this year's AngelFest. Tickets are on sale for $100 each. The grand prize will be awarded during the evening festivities up to $5,000 (depending on total ticket sales). The raffle proceeds will be going to Housing Sewanee and Sewanee Angel Park. Tickets will be for sale up to the drawing. Tickets may also be purchased at the Blue Chair and the Frame Gallery, or on the website at <<http://www.sewaneevillage.com/park/>>.

This is event is free to the community and is sponsored by the Sewanee Business Alliance and the AngelFest sponsors.

Community Arts & Crafts Fair and Trash & Treasures Yard Sale

Come shop for the delightful crafts made by people in our community, and see what treasures you can find in the Trash and Treasures Yard Sale. The event will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14 and 15, at the Morton Memorial United Methodist Church in Monteagle.

The event is a fundraiser for Morton's missions, including the church's monthly food ministry and Isaiah 117 House.

There will be Fall and Christmas Crafts – a great time to get some Christmas shopping done. And a chance to find a treasure among your neighbors' down-sizing cast offs. There will also be some food to eat while you browse or to take home with you.

If you want to participate with your own crafts and/or treasures, contact Carol Bennett at (931) 924-2863 for details and to sign up. Deadline to reserve a space is Oct. 1.

The event will be in front of and inside the church's Fellowship Center, which is to the right of the sanctuary.

Reavis Show 'Scripts' in Cowan

The Franklin County Arts Guild is pleased to announce the new show, "Scripts," a solo presentation of new work by Sewanee based artist, Austin Reavis. The exhibition continues through Saturday, Oct. 30.

Reavis is a young artist working abstractly in a variety of media on paper, approaching his work with gestural mark-making and experimental combinations that include handmade pastels, gouache, and powdered pigments. The title "Scripts" refers both to the ancient idea of texts, and writing, while also referring to the current practice of coding, which involves a program or sequence of instructions that is interpreted or carried out via computer. Austin's current work illustrates both approaches, incorporating the handmade, while also working in series under certain conditions and formulas that deliver unexpected and distinct visual outcomes.

Reavis graduated with a B.F.A. in Sculpture from the Herron School of Art and Design in Indianapolis Indiana in 2010. He is a current member of COOP gallery in Nashville. His work is featured in the permanent collections at the Metro Courthouse, Nashville, IUPUI Library, Indianapolis, and St. Andrew's-Sewanee School, Sewanee.

The Artisan Depot is operated by the Franklin County Arts Guild and is located at 204 Cumberland St. East, Cowan. Gallery hours are noon to 5 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays, and Sundays and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays. More information can be found at <<http://www.franklincoarts.org/>>.

Barganier in Concert at Angel Park

Come to Angel Park for an evening of folk music with singer-songwriter Jack Barganier, C'20. This free event is at 7 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 24. Barganier released his first EP earlier this year and has since launched his music career in New York City. In his EP, titled "Dead Flowers on the Window Sill," Barganier reflects on what it means to come of age and search for meaning in today's world. With a deep interest in the passing of time, and making the most of the time given us, Barganier's lyrics espouse a kind of spirituality that centers around the simple things in life. Eager to explore the beautiful and painful moments in life, Barganier looks for redemption where joy and sorrow overlap. His live shows feature an exciting mix of his original music and classic folk covers by legends of the genre such as Bob Dylan and Townes van Zandt.

Head Coach Rob Zeitler said, "The team continues to improve and work well together. Several of the sets were decided by two points against a deep team. We are so close to turning the corner and getting some wins. I love our competitive spirit and proud of all our players."

SAS Mountain Biking Finishes Third

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee mountain biking team endured the rain and mud to secure a Team third place result in a field of 28 league teams in the NICA Race 2. Podium performances included: William Schrader, first place, Freshman Boys and Cameron Crawford, third place, Junior Varsity Boys.

Top points riders: Elliott Benson; AJ Clements; Cameron Crawford; Libby Neubauer; Caleb Palmertree; Patrick Murphy; William Schrader; and Madeline Sumpter.

James Steffner finished two solid laps in his second mountain bike race. Kieran McCrorey, Jack Hale and Hudson Rowles continued their battle with each other and the competitive Sophomore category with fast lap times and race determination. Jonte Wedig, in his second mountain bike race, made up time and passed eight riders in the Junior Varsity category before having an unrepairable flat on his rear tire during his second lap.

Community Bike Riding Opportunities

For girls and women, the Sewanee GoGirls MTB rides are regularly scheduled on the first and third Sundays of every month, starting at 3 p.m. from the Lake Cheston parking lot. Rides are accessible for anyone with basic trail experience, with adjustments for age, duration, and skill level as appropriate. Mountain bikes are recommended for all trail rides.

For families, new riders, and anyone interested in biking a short distance with social time afterwards at a local restaurant, there is a monthly Community Bike Ride on the paved Mountain Goat Trail (MGT) every first Saturday of the month starting at 4 p.m. from Hawkins Lane in Sewanee. This is a great ride for younger children and families. Riders who prefer biking on dirt trails also have the option of riding a short MGT section before exiting and riding to Lake Dimmick and back, then joining in social hour afterwards.

St. Andrew's-Sewanee Middle School Girls' Soccer Team.

SAS MS Girls' Soccer Victorious

On Sept. 14, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee middle school girls' soccer team played Fayetteville at home, and won 3-1. It was an even match most of the game and in the first half with great movement down the left side of the field with Trinity Sparacio bringing the ball down with a pass to Catherine Barnett who passed it to seventh grader Leonora Pate who placed the ball in the back of the net. Fayetteville found the back of the net on a corner kick during the first half when a SAS defender tried to clear the ball, however Fayetteville was able to intercept the ball and scored.

The Mountain Lions came out strong the second half beating the opponents to the ball and working it up the field. Strong showing from eighth grader Lauren Sullivan from Chile in the midfield where she did an excellent job distributing the ball wide and creating multiple opportunities. Right Winger Beatrice Pate came out strong and worked the ball up the side and fought a blocked shot and had a beautiful goal that put SAS up 2-1. The final goal came from seventh grader Catherine Barnett who fought through a number of players to place a ball in the far post corner with 5 minutes left in the game. Annabelle Close had a great game beating the opponents to the ball and making key passes up the field.

The No. 8 University of the South men's golf team opened the 2022-23 fall portion of the schedule with a third place finish at the Rhodes Fall Invitational from Tunica National. Firing a 54-hole score of 875, two Tigers secured top-five finishes.

In his first meet of his collegiate career, William Cooper missed the top spot by one stroke as he fired a 54-hole score of 212 (72-70-70), good for four-under. The freshman fired a two-under, 70, to move one spot into a tie for third with Bryson Thurston of LeTourneau.

Recording a 3.93 par-4 scoring average, he chipped in an eagle on the 10th hole in Sunday's opening round, a par-4 hole. He finished the tournament with 11 birdies, good for sixth-best in the field.

Pearse Lucas, the reigning Southern Athletic Association's Player and Newcomer of the Year, finished fifth with a 213 (69-71-73). The sophomore secured his fifth top-five finish of his career.

Lucas averaged 4.5 strokes on par-5 holes, and he led the field with 17 birdies.

Ryan Demit soared 11 spots in Monday's final round thanks to an even-par, 72 to finish 22nd overall (74-76-72).

Grant Mahaffey (229) and Colin Edwards (231) rounded out the Sewanee scoring.

Piedmont won the individual tournament, as Fred Roberts IV, who fired a 66 in Monday's final round, shares the trophy with teammate Josh Hebrink. Each golfer scored a 211.

The Purple and Tigers posted identical 291 scores in the first two rounds to finish in a tie for second, but LeTourneau's five-under, 283 score in the final round pushed the Yellowjackets to second and sent the Tigers to third.

Piedmont (861) secured the team championship, finishing three-under as a team.

Football Rolls to 41-6 Victory of Westminster on Family Weekend

The University of the South football team used 387 yards of offense to storm past the Blue Jays of Westminster College (Mo.), 41-6, Saturday afternoon from historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium.

After a slow start by the Sewanee offense, they finally put it together on their third drive of the game which was started by a 49-yard interception return by Daniel May.

Starting the drive at the Westminster 30-yard-line, the Tigers put together a nine-play drive capped by a Price Pennington four-yard score.

Early in the second quarter, the Tigers used a 34-yard touchdown pass from Jeremiah Young to Cyrus Wilson to give the home team the 14-0 advantage.

On the next possession for the Blue Jays, Peyton Byerly fumbled the football as Michael Showalter poked the rock out. Quinn Johnson picked up the loose ball, and the Tiger offense had great field position once again, starting at the WC 27.

Following the fumble recovery, the offense did not waste time as Michael McGhee ran 27 yards for the touchdown.

The Blue Jays would go three-and-out on their next possession, but a 17-yard punt return by Kason Holder gave the offense, once again, great field position. Sewanee would start at the visitor 35-yard-line.

Two plays and a penalty later, Young found Wilson again for a 45-yard strike to the end zone for seven more to lead 28-0 at the break.

After a scoreless third quarter, the Tigers found the end zone again for the second time of the game with a one-yard punch. Sewanee had a 10-play possession on that score that started at the WC 43. Additionally, Sewanee used 3:23 on the drive.

The Blue Jays responded with a 13-play, 62-yard drive that took over eight minutes and ended with a three-yard touchdown run by Jordan Kern.

On Sewanee's last drive of the game, Damerian Wigenton posted a three-yard score to make it a 41-6 score.

Sewanee doubled up Westminster on first downs, 20-10. The Tigers out-gained the Jays, 387-152. One of the best pass defenses in the nation, Sewanee held WC to 32 yards on 5-of-10.

The Tigers finished with 63 plays and averaged 6.1 yards per play, while the Blue Jays posted an average of 2.8 yards on 55 plays.

As a team, Sewanee rushed for 227 yards on the ground, led by Michael McGhee's 125, missing his career mark by 24. The senior posted two scores on the ground.

Price Pennington added 60 yards in the ground and a touchdown, while Jeremiah Young had 160 passing yards.

Cyrus Wilson caught two touchdown passes and totaled 96 yards on four catches.

Michael Showalter recorded seven tackles, 1.5 for a loss, and a forced fumble, while John Harbison had 1.5 tackles for a loss and a 10-yard sack.

Men's Soccer Defeats Belhaven

On Sept. 17, the University of the South Men's Soccer team defeated Belhaven in front of a loud and packed crowd. Tyler Cozzie found the back of the net twice, as the Tigers took home a victory 2-0.

A physical, back and forth first half led to both teams being scoreless at the break.

Sewanee took six shots in the first half.

Three minutes into the second half, Tyler Cozzie found the back of the net off of a pass from David Edge.

JP Furman continued his strong season, finishing with two saves and posting his fourth shutout of the game.

With less than 15 minutes left in the game, Cozzie once again finished a pass from Edge to double the Sewanee lead.

Cozzie finished with two goals. Edge finished with two assists.

Sewanee out shot Belhaven 21-5, including 15 in the second half.

Cross Country Teams Each Take Third at Pretorius Memorial Invitational

The University of the South cross country teams saw identical third place finishes at the Michael Pretorius Memorial Invitational, hosted by Trevecca Nazarene University.

Emma Grace Hendrickson was a top-10 scoring runner at the event with a 20:13.8 mark for a 17th place finish.

Janie Schmitt secured a 21st-place run of 20:36.8, while Allison Haworth clocked in a 20:57.5.

Merrit Newton (20:59.8), Grace Cawley (21:00.7), Ashlyn Browne (21:29.9) and Sam Ude (21:36.3) rounded out the Sewanee scoring.

In the first 8K race of the season, Alex Coley led the Tigers with a 21st-place finish with a 30:29.8. Lane Gamble recorded a 30:45.2 for 22nd place.

Sam Kearley (30:48.5), Brandon Christ (31:20.3), Bill Robinson (31:49.6) and Patrick Rodriguez (31:54.7) rounded out the scoring.

Volleyball Drops Match to Stormy Petrels

The University of the South volleyball team was defeated by Oglethorpe University in a Sunday afternoon Southern Athletic Association (SAA) match, 3-1, from Juhan Gymnasium.

Oglethorpe won 10 straight points thanks to four aces by Jackie Schnier to get out to a 10-1 lead. The Petrels used a .176 swing percentage (10-4-34) to win the set, 25-16.

In the second set, the Tigers forced 11 attack errors by the Stormy Petrels, but the visitors wouldn't go away quietly. OU had a Jackie Schnier kill and the help of a Sewanee ball handling error to even the set at 23 points apiece.

Sewanee responded thanks to back-to-back attack errors by Oglethorpe to win the set, 25-23.

The Petrels came back strong in the next two sets, out-killing the Tigers, 28-15, en route to a four-set win.

Laurel Burkhardt posted a double-double with 16 digs, a career high, and added 12 kills.

Adele Cassidy totaled 14 digs, while Anna Ball posted 11.

Emma Meyer contributed a double-double with 25 assists and 11 digs.

Don't Blame the Goldenrod

Once again, as folks suffer from pollen allergies at this time of the year, an explanation is in order about the source of the scourge. Goldenrod often gets the blame, because it is in glorious bloom at this season and so seems a likely culprit. However, the flowers of goldenrod are insect-pollinated, hence their attractiveness, and therefore have no need to release clouds of pollen. You may not even notice ragweed — the flowers are small and green and don't even have any petals. The male flowers are almost entirely made up of the pollen-bearing stamens. Bees are especially fond of goldenrod, and its pollen grains are larger than those of ragweed and designed to be carried by bees. Ragweed pollen is so tiny that it takes 100 grains to fit across the head of a pin. In the nation, a quarter of a billion tons of ragweed pollen are released every year. And it appears that the increased carbon dioxide content of the air causes ragweed to grow even more lushly. There are two species of ragweed in our area, both non-native: Ambrosia artemisiifolia, Common Ragweed, with divided, almost fern-like leaves, and Ambrosia trifida, Great Ragweed, which can grow taller than a person. It is ironic that ragweed takes as its genus name a word that means "food of the gods," perhaps from some distant, more attractive relative.

Toby

MARC's Mountain Adoptables Meet Toby & Cleopatra

Toby is laid back guy who loves to be loved and cuddled. He's actually a bit needy in that department, but given his history, having been in the pound, it's expected. He likes to be close to his people. Toby is super smart and has been practicing basic obedience commands. He will want to continue working on learning more commands to be the best family companion. His foster mom says "He's very aware of his own body, moves quietly, unless you just get home, LOL." She also says that he takes goodies more gently than any other dog she's ever seen, never touching your fingers. So far Toby's "goodies" have been milk bones or pill pockets. Toby reads people and their moods amazingly well. He's only out to please and to be happy. Are you looking for an almost perfect new companion? Toby might just be the one.

Cleopatra is super lovable. She is an older kitten, maybe early middle school age. Cleopatra likes to cuddle and enjoys lounging. And what a beauty she is! If you are looking for a young kitty companion who also gets along well with other kittens, maybe Cleopatra is the girl for you.

If you would like to learn more about Toby and Cleopatra, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals.

FROM BARD TO VERSE

by Robin Bates

Rosh Hashanah, Sept. 25-27
(Jewish New Year Celebration)

The moon is dark tonight, a new moon for a new year. It is hollow and hungers to be full. It is the black zero of beginning. Now you must void yourself of injuries, insults, incursions. Go with empty hands to those you have hurt and make amends. It is not too late. It is early and about to grow. Now is the time to do what you know you must and have feared to begin. Your face is dark too as you turn inward to face yourself, the hidden twin of all you must grow to be. Forgive the dead year. Forgive yourself. What will be wants to push through your fingers. The light you seek hides in your belly. The light you crave longs to stream from your eyes. You are the moon that will wax in new goodness.
